Description
/ban Somehow, /ban is not translated correctly to /mode +b.  As an extra bonus feature, providing a sensible hostmask for /ban <nick> would be great. Such as !ident@.sld.tld...  /oper /kill  Steps to reproduce:  Enter: /ban !sdvgsdgi Get: [23:56:17] * +b !*sdvgsdgi No such channel #karlsruhe

History

#1 - 04/14/2008 04:47 PM - phon

/ban in a channel or /ban #channel requests the banlist
/ban [#channel] nick bans the hostmask of the nick (with some wildcards)

anything else will be directly forwarded to the server (as long as there is channel specified)
