

Quassel IRC - Feature #410

away log to status buffer (only messages addressed to our nickname)

Description

When user gets back from /away they should see messages addressed to them in one place (like Status buffer). That would be much more comfortable than searching whole backlog for messages sent to us :-)

Just like in irssi :-)

Revision 453ccab6 - 02/05/2009 03:23 PM - Marcus Eggenberger

Fixes #410 - away log (you'll find it in the views menu)

History

#1 - 01/13/2009 09:22 PM - EgS

- Status changed from New to Feedback
- Assignee set to EgS
- Priority changed from High to Normal

I think we could make easily a popup window, that shows the desired content.

What do you exactly need? Is it ok to show all messages that have triggered a highlight and have not been read in the buffer where they belong to? We could display them similar to the chatmonitor (<network:channel:user>).

Does that suffice?

#2 - 02/05/2009 03:25 PM - EgS

- Status changed from Feedback to Resolved
- % Done changed from 0 to 100
